Philippians 4:10 – 13

Ask:

1. What is a place that you hold dear? Why is this place special to you? Share a memory with the group.
2. Think about the things you consider most valuable in your life. What are the top three?
3. What is something you find hard to get go of? Why do you have an attachment to this thing? What would it cost you to let go of it?
4. What relationships are most important to you? How can you be better at finding your joy through these relationships instead of “stuff”?
5. Martin Luther said - “I have held many things in my hands and I have lost them all; but whatever I have placed in God’s hands, that I still possess.” What does this mean to you? How does it apply to your life? How can you place things in God’s hands?
6. Would you consider yourself someone who is content or someone who is never satisfied? Why do you think this?
7. How can you do a better job at allowing God to transform you into a person who is content?
8. Going back to question two – think about your top 3 list again. Would someone who knows you consider these things to be what your heart treasures? Why or why not? Knowing this, how does it make you feel? Knowing this, does your opinion on what is most important change? If so, what changes do you feel you need to make to quit taking possessions so seriously?
