

WEEK 2 - MASTERS OR MASTER'S

BIG IDEA: We are a manager, not an owner, of God's money.

TALKED

DISCUSS

Talk about a time you've seen someone experience good or not-so-good consequences because of their spending or saving.

Most Americans allow our income to drive their spending. Has this been your experience in life?

In biblical times, people were generally slaves because they owed somebody money and were working debt off. How does debt enslave people today?

If somebody asked you to be responsible for their money—would you be more or less responsible and accountable than if it were your own? Why?

What is your reaction to the idea that you are managing money that God has entrusted to you? Does that match the way you've thought about money before now?

Which best describes you in knowing where the money in your life is going: A) I avoid thinking about it, B) I'm mostly unaware, C) I generally know, D) I know exactly.

A Track the way you spend money for the next week or better yet the next month. An app for this can be found at www.ifmoneytalked.com/tools.

P Ask two questions:
L What is surprising you?

Y

What are you learning about your priorities?

HOUSE CHURCH LEADER RESOURCES

SERVE. PLAY. GIVE.

Serve: Sign up as a group to be part of the WE Meal Train. The Meal Train provides meals to families during times of need. Find out more and sign up at weomaha.com/serve/meals.

Play: Plan a House Church trivia night for your group. This will serve as a great way to practice for our annual WE Omaha Trivia Night.

Give: How does looking at yourself as a manager of God's money change your approach to giving to the church?

BREAKING THE ICE:

For your ice breaker this week, play a game of "How, Wow, Pow, Chow."

How: are you doing right now?

Wow: a good or wow moment from last week

Pow: a hard moment from last week

Chow: the best thing you've had to eat from the last week
